WILSON SWEEPS COUNTRY

HIS VICTORY A LANDSLIDE

From Maine to California the Country
Rallies to His Support and Accords
Magnificent Vote.

The election of Wilson and Marshall by a safe majority of electoral votes, is made certain by incomplete returns received from the country at large up to 10 o'clock. With Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio, and other large states represented by only meager reports, the success of the Democratic ticket in a majority of heavily populated states is certain. Early returns give Wilson the "Solid South," embracing all the Democratic states south of the Potomac, and Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, and apparently West Virginia, Indiana and Missouri. A Roosevelt victory in Illinois was conceded early in the evening by Democratic leaders, and he promised at 10 o'clock to carry with it a plurality greater than 100,000. New Hampshire and Vermont had apparently given a majority to Taft on the basis of fairly comprehensive returns received at that time. States where the results were reasonably certain at 10 o'clock gave the following electoral vote: Wilson 267, Roosevelt 29, Taft 8.

Rhode Island also became a doubtful state on the returns near midnight, based on later votes reported and it seemed not wholly improbable its five electoral votes would go to Wilson. Early returns gave an apparent victory for Taft in New Hampshire and Vermont but the Taft plurality dwindled as midnight approached to very few hundred votes in each state and it seemed likely will be wiped out entirely.

The vote in Utah as reflected in the dispatches up to midnight gave indications that the state might be carried for Taft. The vote in Pennsylvania is amazingly close, the returns from more than a thousand precincts embracing over 185,000 votes giving each of the three leading presidential candidates more than 60,000 votes. Taft's lead in the Philadelphia districts was offset by the heavy vote polled by Roosevelt and Wilson in other parts of the state.

Many surprises are shown in the returns. The New York State Assembly seems to be overwhelmingly Democratic. In Illinois the indications were that Judge Dunne, Democratic candidate for Governor, won notwithstanding the heavy Roosevelt victory. Former Speaker Cannon seemed to be defeated for re-election for Congress in Illinois. In addition to Roosevelt's apparently certain victory in Illinois confident claims by the Roosevelt managers that Iowa, Michigan and Kansas would fall into the Roosevelt column seemed verified by partly complete returns at an early hour this (Wednesday) morning. Returns from California are meager but left the state in doubt between Wilson and Roosevelt. Uncertainty regarding Vermont is settled by the announcement of the complete vote which gave Taft a majority of 924 votes. At 12:45 this (Wednesday) morning, the Providence (R. I.) Journal conceded that state to Wilson with the vote close in New Hampshire. It seemed probable that New England entire, with the exception of Vermont, has gone over to the Democratic column.

Reports at midnight give indications that the electoral vote of Wilson will pass the three hundred mark. It is certain Illinois will give Roosevelt an overwhelming majority. The race in Pennsylvania is so close to bring all the three candidates within the range of success.

Indications contained in the early incomplete returns were that the Democrats make gains in the United States Senate, but whether these gains will be sufficient to change the political complexion of the Senate is undetermined. In New Jersey it appeared likely a Democrat would succeed a Republican and while Progressive leaders in Colorado will not concede it it appeared from Wilson gains indicated in early returns the possibility that two Democratic Senators will be returned from that state. In Montana, Walsh, the Democrat, is slightly in the lead in the scattering returns. Warren, Republican, is running ahead of Kendrick, Democrat in Wyoming.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.

WILSON GETS NEWS WHILE AT DINNER

PRINCETON, Nov. 5.—Governor Wilson sat tonight with a party of friends around a brilliantly illuminated dinner table as the election returns began coming in. The returns which continued to come from Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York all favored Wilson and the dinner party showed pleasure. Captain "Bill" McDonald, a Texas Ranger who is the Governor's bodyguard read a stack of returns and felt so happy he exclaimed: "I wonder if I'd get arrested if I just shot off my gun. If it keeps up this way I'll have to just turn 'em loose." The governor was not overconfident and when the returns came from New York, he smiled and said: "I'm supposed to carry the city by three to one in order to win the State." A celebration of the victory by Princeton students began at 11 o'clock tonight when the bell of Nassau Hall, where the Continental Congress met, began to ring out to signal Wilson's victory. The students gathered with a band of instruments, pennants and torches and formed a parade that passed Grover Cleveland's house on the way to Wilson's residence. Friends who were with Governor Wilson while the returns were coming in found difficulty in getting him to concede he won. Dudley S. Malone, his son-in-law, and Senator O'Gorman of New York, came out of the room where the returns were being read and said laughingly: "The Governor refuses to be elected." His message to Chairman McCombs was his first statement admitting that all doubt of his election had passed.

VICTOR AND VANQUISHED

Wilson Says Great Cause has Triumphed.
Taft and Roosevelt Both Acknowledge Their Defeat.

PRINCETON, Nov. 5.—Responding to a telegram from the Democratic National chairman asserting that Wilson was unquestionably elected, the Democratic candidate sent a dispatch to McCombs as follows: "I deeply appreciate your telegram, and wish to extend to you and members of the campaign committee my warm congratulations on the part you have played in the organization, and conduct of the campaign which has been fought out upon essential issues. The great cause has triumphed. Every Democrat, every true Progressive of whatever alliance, must now lend full force and enthusiasm to the fulfillment of the people's hope, the establishment of the people's rights, so that judgment and peace may go hand in hand." This was Wilson's first utterance of a public character following his acceptance of the reports that he had been elected.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—At an early hour Taft conceded Wilson's election. He sent congratulations.

OYSTER BAY, Nov. 5.—"Like all good citizens, I accept the result of the victory of Wilson and the Democrats in good humor and contentment," said Roosevelt tonight. He sent congratulations.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—Taft at 11 o'clock tonight conceded the election of Wilson, and sent Wilson a telegram of congratulation. He issued the following statement from his brother's home here: "The returns insure the selection of Wilson to the presidency. This means an early change in the country's economic policy in reference to the tariff. If this change can be made without halting prosperity I sincerely hope it may be. The vote for Roosevelt, the third party candidate, and for Debs, the Socialist candidate, is a warning their propaganda in favor of fundamental changes in our constitutional representative government has formidable support. While experiment and change in the tariff are being carried out by the Democratic administration it behooves the Republicans to gather again to the party standard and pledge a new faith to their party's principles, organize again and defend the constitutional government handed down to us by our fathers."

for President by a plurality estimated at midnight of about 200,000 from returns received from nearly every election district in Greater City New York and all but 500 of the 3093 districts outside of New York City. Taft led Roosevelt in the same districts by about 35,000 votes. Congressman William Sulzer is elected Governor with a plurality estimated at about 175,000 over Gov. E. Hedges the Republican nominee, who in turn led Oscar Strauss, the candidate of the Progressive party by about 17,000 votes. William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the Republican State Central Committee issued the following statement: "The result of the election in the State of New York demonstrates one thing: that the Roosevelt movement is repudiated. By all the frantic efforts made to secure the votes from the people generally the result shows practically none but former Republicans joined the Roosevelt movement."

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—At this hour, 11:30 p. m. indications are that the Democrats have elected 10 out of 12 members of the House of Representatives. The Republicans have carried the first and second districts and the Democrats everything else. The Democrats will also control the Legislature and gain a United States Senator.
